LONDON UNDERGOES MOST INTENSIVE RAID

British Fleet Blazes Into Action In Mediterranean War Theatre

NINETY REPORTED DEAD AND 350 SEVERELY INJURED IN NIGHT LONG SIEGE ON THE NATION'S CAPITAL

By The Associated Press

The British fleet blazed into action in the Mediterranean today, shelling Italian troops marching along the Libyan-Egyptian coast, while on the home front in London the empire capital's bomb-strafed millions surveyed the havoc from the fiercest night-long assault of the war.

An official estimate placed the city's casualty toll at 90 killed, 350 seriously wounded. RAF warplanes retaliated with a smashing attack on German "invasion ports," the London air ministry said, leaving the Nazi-occupied French coast in flames for miles.

The raids hit hardest at Le Havre, Boulogne, Calais, Dunkerque and Ostende—all scenes of German barge and troop concentrations.

Britain's naval action in the Mediterranean was reported in a communique by the Italian high command, which said the English men of war attacked Fascist troops advancing from Bardia, in Italian Libya, toward Sidi Barrani, 60 miles inside Egypt, already occupied by the Blackshirt advance guard.

With the air siege of England reaching a new peak of destructiveness, correspondents at Dover reported that the channel was still far too rough for the passage of an invasion armada, and for the first time the Nazi press in Berlin dropped hints that the war might continue through the winter.

If true, Britain appears to have won the first vital round of the war—the fight to stave off defeat until she can muster her great empire forces for the counter-offensive in 1941, heralded by Prime Minister Churchill.

MANY BUILDINGS ARE DEMOLISHED DURING BOMBING

London, Sept. 19.—(A.P.)—Millions of Londoners today gazed at the wreckage of their city after the fiercest air attack yet on this bombed city in world history.

They traveled to work on buses which crawled through damaged streets and along desolate detours, and surveyed the battered facades of business buildings newly damaged in last night's dusk-to-dawn raid, which reached a new peak of intensity.

A portion of the press raised new demands for deep bombproof shelters to provide dry, warm and sanitary protection for the long winter months ahead, and suggested removal of the aged and infirm from the huge city and its widening areas of devastation.

Italian Troops And Supply Trains Being Shelled By Britain

Rome, Sept. 19.—(A.P.)—Britain's fleet and air force in the Mediterranean war theater have gone into fast-moving action, shelling and bombing Italian troops and supply centers along 350 miles of the Libyan-Egyptian coast and attacking Rhodes and Lero in Italy's Dodecanese Islands, the Italian High Command reported today.

Its communique declared, however, that Italian warplanes had compelled the British fleet to break off its coastal bombardment, intended to check the thus far rapid Italian drive into Egypt, and flee.

British air attacks on seven Italian bases in Eritrea, Ethiopia, British Somaliland and Italian Somaliland, resulting in seven killed and 13 wounded but "insignificant" damages, also were reported.

Italy has thrown 14 Libyan divisions (about 170,000 men) in action to mop up today after the fiercest air attack yet on this bombed city in world history.

NAZI AROUSED OVER SHELLING OF A HOSPITAL

Berlin, Sept. 19.—A call for unlimited bomb warfare of England in retaliation for the reported bombing of a German hospital was sounded in the German press today.

It followed cautious hints that the aerial struggle might go on through the winter, but with new pressure of some sort on other "vulnerable" points of the British Empire.

Der Angriff, Propaganda Minister Goebbels' paper, demanded thousand-fold retaliation for the bombing at Belhel, Prussia, in which the High Command said nine children were killed and 12 injured by RAF night raiders.

Another newspaper, Nachtausgabe, said that "hereafter not the slightest consideration need be taken" for British civilians.

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung indicated that "the scoring of accounts will be terrible."

The afternoon press, furthermore, indicated that "the scoring of accounts will be terrible."

Kidnap Victim?

More than 2,000 persons participated in the search for two-year-old Ronald Rumbaugh, above, who disappeared mysteriously Sunday from the yard of his farm home in Tyrone Township, Fayette county, and was found safe Wednesday afternoon in a cornfield where he was spotted by an airplane pilot.

CHILD MISSING THREE NIGHTS IS RETURNED SAFE

State Police Gravely Decide Mysterious Disappearance of Two-Year-Old Ronald Rumbaugh in Fayette County Was Case of Abduction

Connellsville, Sept. 19.—(A.P.)—While a youthful farming couple rejoiced today on their 13th wedding anniversary—over the safe return of their "baby" son after his strange disappearance four days ago, State Police gravely decided it was a case of abduction and set out to find the kidnaper.

Sergeant Harry C. Johnson said he believed two-year-old Ronald Rumbaugh had been "placed" in a cornfield where an airplane pilot spotted him yesterday afternoon.

In movie-theater fashion, the pilot flew two miles to the Rumbaugh homestead, yelled to the boy's father and others, and guided them quickly to the scene, thus ending an ever-widening search in which several dozen police and hundreds of volunteers had participated.

The first thing the handsome youngster said as his joyful father, Ralph Rumbaugh, 34, grabbed him up and hugged him, was:

"Daddy, look at the scratches on my leg." Then, "I'm hungry. . . I want milk. . . milk."

Hurried to a hospital, little Ronald was given milk, ordered on a liquid diet, and put to bed.

HITLER'S MINISTER IN ROME

German Foreign Representative Von Ribbentrop Arrives in Armored Train For Vital Conferences With Premier Mussolini and Count Ciano on Future Policies of the Axis; Spanish Ambassador in Welcoming Party

TO DISCUSS ENTIRE EUROPEAN SITUATION

Rome, Sept. 19.—(A.P.)—Adolf Hitler's Foreign Minister, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, conferred with Premier Mussolini this afternoon and on this consultation may pivot the next turn in the European war.

Linked with the talks at Il Duce's Palazzo Venezia was the possibility of a broadened war, with indications that Spain might be drawn in, at least to the extent of permitting an Axis drive across her territory against Britain's Gibraltar stronghold.

The Axis powers are determined on a "totalitarian" victory over Britain, according to Virginia Gayda, and in this fight to the finish other European nations are involved "not as spectators alone."

This comment by Italian Fascism's editorial spokesman-in-chief gave considerable point to the Axis council of war. Observers interpreted it as a reference to Spain's potential role.

Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and German and Italian ambassadors to each other's capital, Hans-Georg Viktor Von Mackensen and Dino Alfieri, respectively, were present at the Palazzo Venezia meeting. It started shortly after 5 p. m. (10 a. m. EST.).

Von Ribbentrop had come to Rome on an armored train like that given to Mussolini by Hitler. German troops manned anti-aircraft guns on the carriages.

Count Ciano and other high Italian officials greeted the German foreign minister, whose visit was expected to involve Axis hopes to defeat the British from London to Cairo before winter.

Spain was expected in foreign circles to figure largely in the (Turn To Page Fifteen)

MANY BUILDINGS ARE DEMOLISHED DURING BOMBING

London, Sept. 19.—(P)—Several casualties and some damage were caused this morning when a German raider, beginning a daylight attack in the wake of a heavy night assault, dropped three or four bombs on an east London district.

German bombers flew to the renewed assault over England's east and southeastern coasts and the air ministry reported three shot down in morning fighting, one over east Anglia, northeast of London, and two off the southeast coast.

CENSORSHIP TIGHTENS ON AIR RAID ALARMS

London, Sept. 19.—(P)—British censorship was tightened unexpectedly today to prevent publication or cabling of times of London air raids.

The restriction applies to the start of alarms and the finish. Censors said publication of the times of raids was considered prejudicial to security. The same reason often has been given for the prohibition against cabling or publication of specific locations and military objectives hit by bombs.

Washington, Sept. 19.—(P)—Construction of barracks and other facilities at Indiantown Gap, Pa., to accommodate 20,000 troops, was authorized by the War Department today.

The approval of quarters at the Pennsylvania military reservation, or one National Guard division, was included in orders at seven military posts for an aggregate of more than 100,000 troops. Pennsylvania Guardsmen are expected to train there this winter.

Authorization for similar facilities at Fort Meade, Md., was announced, for one guard division

Italian Troops And Supply Trains Being Shelled By Britain

Rome, Sept. 19.—(P)—Britain's fleet and air force in the Mediterranean war theater have gone into far-flung action, shelling and bombing Italian troops and supply centers along 350 miles of the Libyan-Egyptian coast and attacking Rhodes and Lero in Italy's Dodecanese Islands, the Italian High Command reported today.

British air attacks on seven Italian bases in Eritrea, Ethiopia, British Somaliland and Italian Somaliland, resulting in seven killed and 13 wounded but "insignificant" damages, also were reported.

Italy has thrown 14 Libyan divisions (about 170,000 men) in addition to Italian troops into the drive into Egypt and pushed back the British in a disorderly retreat. Marshal Rodolfo Graziani reported to Premier Mussolini today.

Graziani was reported to have told Mussolini he used 2,000 motor trucks in the eastward drive which surprised the British. (Previously it was reported at least two columns were engaged in the division, one of Libyans, and another of Italian troops.)

British military experts had estimated only 150,000 troops and but few trucks could be used over the terrain available to the advance. (Turn To Page Fifteen)

HILTON MANAGERS ARE PREDICTING VICTORY

Harrisburg, Sept. 19.—(P)—The campaign manager for Frank C. Hilton, candidate for re-election as president of the Pennsylvania Young Republicans, predicted his victory today as delegates arrived for the annual convention.

The convention, with an attendance expected by McNeill to reach 3,000, starts tonight with a dance. Friday speakers include U. S. Rep. Joseph W. Martin, the party's national chairman, and Governor James. The governor's speech, "What It Means to Win With Willie," will be carried on a nationwide radio network Friday night (8 p. m. EST).

At the same time Stimson in a series of announcements, disclosed tentative plans to call to active duty approximately 37,000 National Guard officers and men in November. They will comprise the third and fourth National Guard increments to be called out.

Under present plans, no further units then will be ordered to service before January 3.

Washington, Sept. 19.—(P)—Jesse Jones who said he wasn't much excited about the job, became secretary of commerce today. He was sworn in by Stanley Reed, in the presence of President Roosevelt.

Just before going to the White House to take the oath of his new office, he was reminding inquirers that, although he had not been in the cabinet before, he had not been exactly idle during the eight years in which he disbursed about $10,000,000,000 through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and related agencies.

"The job I had was about as important as most," he smiled. It sounded as if he would have turned down the cabinet job if congress had not pushed through a new law permitting him to retain his old post as federal loan administrator.

Reputed to be one of the canniest businessmen in the nation, the new secretary said it was too early to say what he would do with the commerce department. He murmured that, naturally, he'd like to do something to help business, and use the department's facilities in connection with his present defense lending projects.

"The department and the lending agency both have to do with business, it was natural to marry them," he said.

Jones was born 66 years ago in Tennessee. One of his boasts is that he can show a profit for the government on the so-called risky loans he made to industry during the depression.

Kidnap Victim?

More than 2,000 persons participated in the search for two-year-old Ronald Rumbaugh, above, who disappeared mysteriously Sunday from the yard of his farm home in Tyrone township, Fayette county, and was found safe Wednesday afternoon in a cornfield where he was spotted by an airplane pilot.

CHILD MISSING THREE NIGHTS IS RETURNED SAFE

State Police Gravely Decide Mysterious Disappearance of Two-Year-Old Ronald Rumbaugh in Fayette County Was Case of Abduction

CLOTHING UNSOILED

Connellsville, Sept. 19.—(P)—While a youthful farming couple rejoiced today—on their 14th wedding anniversary—over the safe return of their "baby" son after his strange disappearance four days ago, State Police gravely decided it was a case of abduction and set out to find the kidnaper.

Sergeant Harry C. Johnson said he believed two-year-old Ronald Rumbaugh had been "placed" in a cornfield where an airplane pilot spotted him yesterday afternoon. In movie-thriller fashion, the pilot flew two miles to the Rumbaugh homestead, yelled to the boy's father and others, and guided them quickly to the scene, thus ending an ever-widening search in which several dozen police and hundreds of volunteers had participated.

The first thing the handsome youngster said as his joyful father, Ralph Rumbaugh, 34, grabbed him up and hugged him, was: "Daddy, look at the scratches on my leg." Then, "I'm hungry. . . I want milk. . . milk."

Hurried to a hospital, little Ronald was given milk, ordered on a liquid diet, and put to bed. (Turn To Page Fifteen)

MRS. BANKHEAD MAY GO TO HOUSE

Washington, Sept. 19.—(P)—Rep. Lindsay C. Warren of North Carolina, who will leave the House in a fortnight to become comptroller general, today took over temporarily the duties of Democratic leader.

Speaker Rayburn announced Warren's selection last night, but no decision was reached on whether the House Democrats would caucus soon to select a permanent leader or defer the action until the next congress meets in January.

Warren has been confirmed by the Senate as comptroller general and his resignation from the House becomes effective Oct. 1.

Rayburn was elevated to the speakership from the majority leader's post to succeed the late Speaker Bankhead.

HITLER'S MINISTER IN ROME

German Foreign Representative Von Ribbentrop Arrives in Armored Train For Vital Conferences With Premier Mussolini and Count Ciano on Future Policies of the Axis; Spanish Ambassador in Welcoming Party

TO DISCUSS ENTIRE EUROPEAN SITUATION

Rome, Sept. 19.—(P)—Adolf Hitler's Foreign Minister, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, conferred with Premier Mussolini this afternoon and on this consultation may pivot the next turn in the European war. Linked with the talks at Il Duce's Palazzo Venezia was the possibility of a broadened war, with indications that Spain might be drawn in, at least to the extent of permitting an Axis drive across her territory against Britain's Gibraltar stronghold.

The Axis powers are determined on a "totalitarian" victory over Britain, according to Virginio Gayda, and in this fight to the finish other European nations are involved "not as spectators alone."

This comment by Italian Fascism's editorial spokesman-in-chief gave considerable point to the Axis council of war. Observers interpreted it as a reference to Spain's potential role.

Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and German and Italian ambassadors to each other's capital, Hans-Georg Viktor Von Mackensen and Dino Alfieri, respectively, were present at the Palazzo Venezia meeting. It started shortly after 5 p. m. (10 a. m. EST).

Von Ribbentrop had come to Rome on an armored train like that given to Mussolini by Hitler. German troops manned anti-aircraft guns on the carriages.

Count Ciano and other high Italian officials greeted the German foreign minister, whose visit was expected to involve Axis hopes to defeat the British from London to Cairo before winter.

Spain was expected in foreign circles to figure largely in the (Turn To Page Fifteen)

WILLKIE TALK TONIGHT WILL BE BROADCAST

By THEODORE F. KOOP
Aboard Willkie Train Enroute to Los Angeles, Sept. 19.—(P)—After calling throughout southern California for re-election of Senator Hiram Johnson as a "great fighting, fearless liberal," Wendell L. Willkie traveled to Los Angeles today to amplify his views on domestic issues.

Although the Republican presidential nominee did not disclose in advance the exact subject for an evening address at the Coliseum, his day's program contained a hint that he might discuss the relation of the defense program to American industry. The address will be broadcast.

His schedule allowed time to visit the airplane plants of North American Aviation and the Douglas Aircraft Company. (Turn To Page Fifteen)

P. U. C. ELECTS A NEW SECRETARY

Harrisburg, Sept. 19.—(P)—Further changes in personnel of the Public Utilities Commission were indicated today, following the dismissal of Joseph P. Sheridan from his $8500-a-year job as secretary.

Robert F. Cameron, of Wellsboro, assistant to James F. Torrance, Republican state chairman, was appointed to take over Sheridan's job next Monday.

"There will be some additional changes," said Commissioner Ralph W. Thorne. "How many, and how extensive they will be, we don't know yet."

POSSE SEARCHES FOR "WILDMAN"

Three Bridges, N. J., Sept. 19.—(P)—Heavily-armed and instructed by Hunterdon County Prosecutor C. Lloyd Fisher to shoot to kill if necessary, a 50-man posse deployed to close in on a "wildman" believed responsible for slaying of Julius Norvich, 20, and dumping his body in a cistern.

Fisher announced in the early hours that the suspect had crept near the Norvich home and fired a shotgun.

Norvich was shot to death on a deserted farm, already the scene of a fire attributed by officials to arson, and Fisher set forth the theory that a demented person, "haunting" the farm was responsible for both crimes.

The slain youth had been sent Tuesday night by his father John to bring some horses from a pasturing in turbulent air, making the (Turn To Page Fifteen)

PRESIDENT TO RECEIVE DEGREE IN PHILADELPHIA

Washington, Sept. 19.—(P)—President Roosevelt will leave the capital tonight for Philadelphia, where tomorrow he will inspect army and navy defense projects and make an address in Convention Hall.

White House officials said they did not know whether the speech would be political or non-political nor what the subject would be.

The chief executive will devote the morning to looking over some of Philadelphia's share of the $15,000,000,000 preparedness program, including the navy yard, where one 35,000-ton battleship is nearing completion and the keel of a huge 45,000-ton warship has just been laid.

Also on the inspection schedule were army and navy supply warehouses and the naval hospital.

New Mechanism to Simplify Air Mail Pickup Is Developed By All American Aviation, Inc.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 19.—(P)—A new mechanism to simplify air mail pick-up has been developed by All-American Aviation, Inc., Richard du Pont, president, announced today and will be installed on all five of the company's permanent routes authorized by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

In the new system, the pick-up hook no longer trails at the end of a 56-foot cable when making contacts, but is held in position and guided through the ground station by an arm that retracts into the fuselage during normal flight, he said.

The arm is 15 feet long, and prevents the pick-up line from whipping in turbulent air, making the (Turn To Page Fifteen)

Accuracy of the contact has also been improved, du Pont said, by shortening the pick-up line and making the ground station 20 feet high instead of the former 40 feet. The new equipment also increases the speed at which the pickup may be made from about 30 miles per hour to 110 miles per hour, and increases the normal load capacity from 20 to 50 pounds.

The new system also includes a portable, rather than a permanent ground station. The new station, which is dismantled when not in use, represents a great improvement over the old type, particularly at airports, du Pont declared.

FORMS IN THE MAILS FOR DRAFT

Distribution of Registration Blanks for Printing Begins, With Master Copies of First Four Speeding By Air to the Forty-Eight States Where They Will Be Reproduced by the Millions; Committees Start on Appropriation Bills

GEN. MARSHALL HEARD IN CLOSED SESSION

Washington, Sept. 19.—(P)—Distribution of draft registration forms for printing began today, with master copies of the first four blanks speeding by airmail to the 48 states where they will be reproduced by the millions.

The forms en route were the first of the series of 64 cards, questionnaires, placards, booklets and the like which will be needed in the huge task of enrolling 15,500,000 men between 21 and 35 next month and selecting some of them for military service. The ultimate cost of all draft printing is estimated at $1,500,000.

Preparing in advance for the operation of the draft organization, army and navy selective service officials estimated that 32,000,000 registration cards, 24,000,000 registration certificates and 24,000,000 questionnaires would be required.

A house appropriation subcommittee, meanwhile, called Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, to testify at a closed hearing today on President Roosevelt's request. (Turn To Page Fifteen)

BOYS ADMIT STARTING FIRE AT BRYN MAWR

Bryn Mawr, Sept. 19.—(P)—Samuel Sigel, superintendent of Haverford township police, announced today two small boys had admitted starting a fire which destroyed three stables of the Bryn Mawr horse show and drove 18 families from their homes.

Nineteen firemen were injured fighting the blaze which raged for more than three hours last night and endangered 14 polo ponies.

The two youngsters, one 8 and the other 10, were taken into custody by Patrolman Richard Donnelly who recalled seeing their "gang" playing with matches in the neighborhood.

The boys told him, Sigel said, that they "just wanted to see it burn."

W.P.A. WORKERS MAY WEAR POLITICAL PINS

Pittsburgh, Sept. 19.—(P)—Fred Carreno, a WPA worker who said he was ordered by a superior to remove a Roosevelt-for-president button from his coat lapel while at work, appealed the case to state WPA Administrator Philip Mathews.

He said Mathews made the following reply:

"Anyone working for the WPA has a perfect right to wear a Roosevelt or Willkie button without interference."

Commercial Division Leaders Given Instructions At Opening Meeting; Sheffield Dinner Friday Evening

At a meeting of leaders in the Commercial Division of the Warren General Hospital's $50,000 campaign, held yesterday afternoon at the Conewango Club, final plans were completed for the solicitation in commercial firms of the borough which will start on an intensive scale next Monday morning.

The meeting was in charge of R. W. Mackay, chairman of the Commercial Division, who outlined the procedure for soliciting in this group of firms. Other speakers included J. H. Alexander, general chairman of the campaign, and A. M. Lopez, hospital superintendent, who outlined the needs of the institution.

"Before you start any solicitation," said Mr. Mackay, plan your campaign, organize it. Large firms should plan and organize by departments. In any event, have one or more persons responsible for presenting this giving opportunity and the securing of subscriptions. Be sure you are organized for a quick, intensive solicitation."

In order to reduce the amount of bookkeeping work at the hospital, it was suggested by Mr. Mackay that each firm make payroll deductions or otherwise arrange internal collection of employee pledges. For that purpose, he said, each firm should retain pledge cards of its employees.

"Be sure that employees are not forced to give, but be sure they are told what the hospital is and does, and that they are invited to invest as generously as they can to protect the health of their families, their friends and themselves," said Mr. Mackay.

In making suggestions for giving, the chairman stated that wage earners might be encouraged to value the hospital at ten cents a week for a period of 20 months, or approximately 80 weeks, making a pledge of $1.00 for each of the eight quarterly payment dates during the 20-month period.

Firm giving, it was suggested, might be based on a penny per day per employee for the 20-month period, or approximately 600 days. It was also recommended that executives be asked to subscribe in keeping with their responsibility and financial ability.

Tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock, standard time, a dinner will be held in Cederloft Hall at Sheffield for the purpose of organizing the campaign for the hospital in the eastern portion of the county. This section of the county is being organized by Allen Gibson, vice chairman of the Allied Towns division, assisted by George E. Seavy.

In Sheffield, Lloyd Jones will act as chairman, with Francis Borden and Allen Gibson as co-chairmen. Other leaders include the following: Corydon, L. J. Learn; Kinzua, Mrs. Arthur Shine; Tiona, Mrs. Herman Hanold; River Road and Stoneham, Mrs. John Keenan; Clarendon borough, Warren Miller.

Commercial Division Leaders Given Instructions At Opening Meeting; Sheffield Dinner Friday Evening

At a meeting of leaders in the Commercial Division of the Warren General Hospital's $50,000 campaign, held yesterday afternoon at the Conewango Club, final plans were completed for the solicitation in commercial firms of the borough which will start on an intensive scale next Monday morning.

The meeting was in charge of R. W. Mackay, chairman of the Commercial Division, who outlined the procedure for soliciting in this group of firms. Other speakers included J. H. Alexander, general chairman of the campaign, and A. M. Lopez, hospital superintendent, who outlined the needs of the institution.

"Before you start any solicitation," said Mr. Mackay, plan your campaign, organize it. Large firms should plan and organize by departments. In any event, have one or more persons responsible for presenting this giving opportunity and the securing of subscriptions. Be sure you are organized for a quick, intensive solicitation."

In order to reduce the amount of bookkeeping work at the hospital, it was suggested by Mr. Mackay that each firm make payroll deductions or otherwise arrange internal collection of employee pledges. For that purpose, he said, each firm should retain pledge cards of its employees.

"Be sure that employees are not forced to give, but be sure they are told what the hospital is and does, and that they are invited to invest as generously as they can to protect the health of their families, their friends and themselves," said Mr. Mackay.

In making suggestions for giving, the chairman stated that wage earners might be encouraged to value the hospital at ten cents a week for a period of 20 months, or approximately 80 weeks, making a pledge of $1.00 for each of the eight quarterly payment dates during the 20-month period.

Firm giving, it was suggested, might be based on a penny per day per employee for the 20-month period, or approximately 600 days. It was also recommended that executives be asked to subscribe in keeping with their responsibility and financial ability.

Tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock, standard time, a dinner will be held in Cederloft Hall at Sheffield for the purpose of organizing the campaign for the hospital in the eastern portion of the county. This section of the county is being organized by Allen Gibson, vice chairman of the Allied Towns division, assisted by George E. Seavy.

In Sheffield, Lloyd Jones will act as chairman, with Francis Borden and Allen Gibson as co-chairmen. Other leaders include the following: Corydon, L. J. Leam; Kinzua, Mrs. Arthur Shine; Tiona, Mrs. Herman Hanold; River Road and Stoneham, Mrs. John Keenan; Clarendon borough, Warren Miller.

LIONS CLUB IS MAKING PLANS FOR DAISY DAY

Members of the Warren Lions Club are going forward with plans for their annual Daisy Day, to be held on Saturday, September 28, for the purpose of raising funds to carry on the organization's assistance for the blind and to provide glasses for persons who are unable to buy them.

Needs of the blind, not only in this section, but throughout the state were outlined in a recent letter from Thomas D. Davies, chairman of the special appropriations committee of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind.

"Among the major activities of the Lions Club is blind work and particularly prevention of blindness," Mr. Davies said. "The Pennsylvania Association for the Blind is an outstanding organization carrying on a vigorous prevention work."

"If the association for the blind is to continue a vigorous worthwhile program, it must have funds, and we are counting on the Lions Clubs of Pennsylvania to contact the senators and representatives from the various counties and obtain their whole-hearted support for this additional appropriation. As chairman of the special appropriations committee of the association for the blind may I express to your club our sincere appreciation for any effort you may lend in obtaining these additional funds."

The local Lions Club also received a letter from P. P. Caro, local representative of the Pennsylvania Federation for the Blind, expressing appreciation for the service club's work in behalf of the poor blind of the community.

BROTHER DIES

Frank J. Tener, of Pittsburgh, brother of former Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania, died yesterday at Cromwell, Conn., following an illness of several years. K. OF C. PICNIC

The annual picnic of Warren Council, Knights of Columbus, is to be held at Ferncliffe Park, on the Warren-Jamestown road, on Sunday afternoon. The festivities will begin at noon and shortly after that hour a barbecued chicken dinner will be served as only A. A. Albaugh can prepare it. The arrangements call for many activities during the afternoon and early evening. The St. Joseph's Ushers Club has been invited to the affair and it is predicted the day will be a most enjoyable one to a large crowd of knights and their guests.

MEETING FOR BLIND

Not only will the Pennsylvania State Federation of the Blind be represented at the mass meeting of the blind of Warren county, which will be held in the local Y. W. C. A. auditorium on this Friday evening, but there will be blind persons in attendance from surrounding counties. Word has been received by Frank P. Caro, of this city, who is in charge of this meeting, that the officers of the Erie Federation of the Blind expect to be present. Every blind person in this county is urged to be present for the purpose of forming a permanent local club of the blind.

LIONS CLUB IS MAKING PLANS FOR DAISY DAY

Members of the Warren Lions Club are going forward with plans for their annual Daisy Day, to be held on Saturday, September 28, for the purpose of raising funds to carry on the organization's assistance for the blind and to provide glasses for persons who are unable to buy them.

Needs of the blind, not only in this section, but throughout the state were outlined in a recent letter from Thomas D. Davies, chairman of the special appropriations committee of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind.

"Among the major activities of the Lions Club is blind work and particularly prevention of blindness," Mr. Davies said. "The Pennsylvania Association for the Blind is an outstanding organization carrying on a vigorous prevention work."

"If the association for the blind is to continue a vigorous worthwhile program, it must have funds, and we are counting on the Lions Clubs of Pennsylvania to contact the senators and representatives from the various counties and obtain their whole-hearted support for this additional appropriation."

"As chairman of the special appropriations committee of the association for the blind may I express to your club our sincere appreciation for any effort you may lend in obtaining these additional funds."

The local Lions Club also received a letter from F. P. Caro, local representative of the Pennsylvania Federation for the Blind, expressing appreciation for the service club's work in behalf of the poor blind of the community.

STATE OFFICIALS READY

Dispatches from Harrisburg bring the information that the capital has swung into the military program of the Selective Service draft.

The Department of Military Affairs is busy compiling lists of names of leading citizens to serve on the 420 local draft boards, and the seven regional appeal boards.

Governor James, according to reports, has spent long hours in conference with his civilian and military advisors over the appointment of an executive director, and an assistant director, to head the draft in Pennsylvania.

Sources close to the executive mansion have indicated that the appointment will be civilian, since the draft will be carried out through civilian local boards.

The director must be appointed within three weeks, and the names of those recommended for duty, without pay, on the local draft boards will be submitted to the president in the week preceding the military registration on October 16.

From another source it has been learned that the Department of Military Affairs estimates 1,600,000 men are within the conscription age limits in the state, while only approximately 28,000 to 30,000 may be taken in the "first draft."

All forms and the questionnaire blanks are ready; local election officials have been asked to serve without pay as a "patriotic duty," and the War Department is selecting the military personnel who will supervise the work of the civilian officials.

Insuring a comprehensive and non-partisan registration and selection of men to report for duty with the nation's armed forces is the "enforcement" section of the draft act.

It provides that anyone who evades registration, falsifies his physical qualifications or family relationships, or any legal, medical, civilian or military official charged with carrying out provisions of the act who shirks his duty, is liable to a fine up to $5,000 and imprisonment not to exceed five years, upon conviction in a federal court.

SKILLED MECHANICS SCARCE

The large crowd that attended a preliminary meeting of the National Defense Training Program Monday evening at the high school brought to the front a number of facts concerning the local situation that should arouse some solid thinking on the part of every citizen.

It demonstrates that while there must be a woeful lack of skilled labor in Warren, there are hundreds of young men and their elders in the community who are anxious to perfect themselves in the particular line of industry in which they may be interested.

It likewise emphasizes a situation which has been commented upon in this column before. It is in regard to the fact that growing boys and young men have not had the opportunity in recent years to enter plants as apprentices to learn trades that might fit them to be self-supporting. The scarcity of trained mechanics as a result, threatens to prove a severe handicap to those entrusted with speeding up the national defense program.

It is encouraging to note that out of Monday night's meeting arrangements may be perfected to remedy at least in a measure the local situation in regard to the scarcity of skilled workmen.

If present plans materialize an interesting announcement may be expected in the near future.

Warren business men (and women) planning to join the caravan to Columbus tomorrow noon will find the tour to the western end of the county particularly enjoyable, especially at this time of the year. Better join the crowd!

Members of the Old Creek Baptist Association, coming to Warren for the 76th annual meeting to be held in the local church Friday and Saturday, find a warm welcome awaiting them, not only from the congregation but citizens in general.

Chief George Haem had a timely article in Wednesday's paper regarding subversive activities that should be studied and heeded by every citizen.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—"It's like this, Son," writes the Old Professor, Kay Kyser, from the studio lots of Hollywood, where he is making another picture "You mean well, but every time you get out of town you let your stomach run away with you."

"Take that trip you made to my old home town of Rocky Mount, N. C., last fall. You were supposed to write a review of my picture. 'That's Right, You're Wrong,' but what you wound up doing was giving your readers a pretty picture of southern cooking. I judged from your piece that while everybody else was at the theater you stayed home and made a raid on the kitchen, where the ham and the fried chicken were."

"Now I know we have good cooking in all our Southern states, but honest, you can get a decent meal, sometimes in other sections of the country. You can even get good cooking in New York, if you are willing to look for it."

"HERE'S what I mean. When you go to Chicago you always make a b-line for Yars because it has a reputation for good Russian food. The point I wish to raise is that you waste an awfully lot of time going to Chi when you can get the same thing, and better, at the Russian Bear in N. Y. It's the same in Milwaukee, or Cincinnati, where German cooking predominates. But the Blue Ribbon tavern in Manhattan can give you all the German cooking you want, at no extra train fare.

The finest Mexican food I ever ate was at a small dining car cafe on the outskirts of El Paso, and I pined for it for months afterward—until somebody led me into the Oxcuchi in New York. The same with Italian cooking. Even Italy can't produce better Roman food and lasagne than any of a dozen well-known Italian restaurants just around the corner. Any corner."

"The old town doesn't do so bad on Southern cooking, either. I don't like the names of some of those 'southern' places, such as Mamma's Chicken Farm, but then I learned long ago never to judge a tune by its title, and after all it's the way it tastes that counts, and Mamma's has it. Then there's the Pick-a-Rib, only about two hops, as the crowd flies from your door. Finest barbecued ribs and oysters you ever saw. That hot sauce they pour over it is wonderful. You get all you can eat topped off by coffee and a big piece of apple pie. All for a puck."

"HOWEVER, if you still don't still want to go whole hog with a menu of hot likker, corn pone biscuits, black-eyed peas, turnip greens, grits, candied yam, and chicken, and if you prefer to eat in an atmosphere where the stress is placed on taste not fuss then this is your invitation to come on up and see me some time. We'll really do it up right."

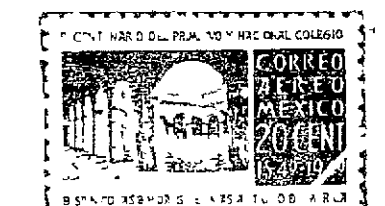

"Meanwhile, have a good one on your vacation. I don't know where you're going, but wherever it is all I can say is I hope the meals are frequent and to your taste."

"Yours between bites—K. Kyser."

Mexico Marks 400 Years Of New World Education

THE 400th anniversary of the founding of the first college in America is commemorated by a new Mexican series of three postage and three airmail values. Designs picture Don Vasco de Quiroga, founder of the College of San Nicholas de Hidalgo at Patzcuaro, in 1490, the college coat-of-arms, Don Melchior Ocampo, who restored the college in 1847, and views of college buildings.

Pictured above is the courtyard of the original college in Patzcuaro.

Education in Mexico under the Spanish regime antedates that of Colonial America by almost 100 years. Harvard College, the first in North America, was not established until 1636. Yale was founded in 1701. William and Mary College, the first "free" school was granted a royal charter in 1693.

STATE OFFICIALS READY

Dispatches from Harrisburg bring the information that the capitol has swung into the military program of the Selective Service draft.

The Department of Military Affairs is busy compiling lists of names of leading citizens to serve on the 420 local draft boards, and the seven regional appeal boards.

Governor James, according to reports, has spent long hours in conference with his civilian and military advisors over the appointment of an executive director, and an assistant director, to head the draft in Pennsylvania.

Sources close to the executive mansion have indicated that the appointment will be civilian, since the draft will be carried out through civilian local boards.

The director must be appointed within three weeks, and the names of those recommended for duty, without pay, on the local draft boards will be submitted to the president in the week preceding the military registration on October 16.

From another source it has been learned that the Department of Military Affairs estimates 1,600,000 men are within the conscription age limits in the state, while only approximately 28,000 to 30,000 may be taken in the "first draft."

All forms and the questionnaire blanks are ready; local election officials have been asked to serve without pay as a "patriotic duty," and the War Department is selecting the military personnel who will supervise the work of the civilian officials.

Insuring a comprehensive and non-partisan registration and selection of men to report for duty with the nation's armed forces is the "enforcement" section of the draft act.

It provides that anyone who evades registration, falsifies his physical qualifications or family relationships, or any legal, medical, civilian or military official charged with carrying out provisions of the act who shirks his duty, is liable to a fine up to $5,000 and imprisonment not to exceed five years, upon conviction in a federal court.

SKILLED MECHANICS SCARCE

The large crowd that attended a preliminary meeting of the National Defense Training Program Monday evening at the high school brought to the front a number of facts concerning the local situation that should arouse some solid thinking on the part of every citizen.

It demonstrates that while there must be a woeful lack of skilled labor in Warren, there are hundreds of young men and their elders in the community who are anxious to perfect themselves in the particular line of industry in which they may be interested.

It likewise emphasizes a situation which has been commented upon in this column before. It is in regard to the fact that growing boys and young men have not had the opportunity in recent years to enter plants as apprentices to learn trades that might fit them to be self-supporting. The scarcity of trained mechanics, as a result, threatens to prove a severe handicap to those entrusted with speeding up the national defense program.

It is encouraging to note that out of Monday night's meeting arrangements may be perfected to remedy, at least in a measure, the local situation in regard to the scarcity of skilled workmen.

If present plans materialize an interesting announcement may be expected in the near future.

Warren business men (and women) planning to join the caravan to Columbus tomorrow noon will find the tour to the western end of the county particularly enjoyable, especially at this time of the year. Better join the crowd!

Members of the Oil Creek Baptist Association, coming to Warren for the 76th annual meeting to be held in the local church Friday and Saturday, will find a warm welcome awaiting them, not only from the congregation, but citizens in general.

Chief George Haehn had a timely article in Wednesday's paper regarding subversive activities that should be studied and heeded by every citizen.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.—Psalm 107:1.

Among the attributes of God, although they are all equal, mercy shines with even more brilliancy than justice.—Cervantes.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—"It's like this, Son," writes the Old Professor, Kay Kyser, from the studio lots of Hollywood, where he is making another picture. "You mean well, but every time you get out of town you let your stomach run away with you. "Take that trip you made to my old home town of Rocky Mount, N. C. last fall. You were supposed to write a review of my picture, 'That's Right, You're Wrong,' but what you wound up doing was giving your readers a pretty picture of southern cooking. I judged from your piece that while everybody else was at the theater you stayed home and made raids on the kitchen, where the ham and the fried chicken were. "Now I know we have good cooking in all our Southern states, but, honest, you can get a decent meal, sometimes, in other sections of the country. You can even get good cooking in New York, if you are willing to look for it."

"HERE'S what I mean. When you go to Chicago you always make a-b-line for Yarb's, because it has a reputation for good Russian victuals. The point I wish to raise is that you waste an awfully lot of time going to Chi when you can get the same thing, and better, at the Russian Bear in N. Y. It's the same in Milwaukee, or Cincinnati, where German cooking predominates. But the Blue Ribbon tavern in Manhattan can give you all the German cooking you want, at no extra train fare. "The finest Mexican food I ever ate was at a small dining car cafe on the outskirts of El Paso, and I pined for it for months afterward—until somebody led me into the Oxcilli, in New York. The same with Italian cooking. Even Italy can't produce better Roman lasagne and lasagne than any of a dozen well-known Italian restaurants just around the corner. Any corner. "The old town doesn't do so bad on Southern cooking, either. I don't like the names of some of those 'southern' places, such as Mammy's Chicken Farm, but then I learned long ago never to judge a tune by its title, and after all it's the way it tastes that counts, and Mammy's has it. Then there's the Pick-a-Rib, only about two hops, as the crow flies, from your door. Finest barbecued ribs and oysters you ever saw. That hot sauce they pour over it is wonderful. You get all you can eat, topped off by coffee and a big piece of apple pie. All for a buck. "HOWEVER, if you still insist on the 'works' . . . if you still aim to go whole hawg with a menu of pot likker, corn pone, biscuits, black-eyed peas, turnip greens, grits, candied yams, ham and chicken, and if you pine to eat same in an atmosphere where the stress is placed on taste, not fuss, then this is your invitation to come on up and see me some time. We'll really do it up right. "Meanwhile, have a good time on your vacation. I don't know where you're going, but wherever it is, all I can say is I hope the meals are frequent and tasty. "Yours between bites—Kay Kyser."

MEMORY OF THE MOON

YESTERDAY: Constance buys Pancho for $900. She and John tour the ranch.

Chapter 29
John's Plan

PEDRO would have to be at the first barn, she thought. He watched them approach, overbly, smiled genially at John, and treated Constance with the courtesy of a ranch manager's son for the owner's daughter.

Constance hated him. She felt a primitive desire to scratch at him, force his attention until he either fought back or left vanquished. Instead, she prattled about ventilating systems, odder, and the necessity of protecting dairy cows from chills.

Pedro, like a hired guide, took them through each barn: those occupied, those waiting for the new herds. He took them into the laboratory, introduced John to Pedersen's chemist, waited until he had seen a test run, then gravely escorted him on.

And Constance followed, seething inwardly. Pedro was playing up to John for some reason, and John was falling for Pedro's act.

Thoughtfully they rode back to the ranch house.

"Mind if I take a look at your books, Constance?" John asked, as they neared the stables.

"I'm too proud of them, John," she confessed. "Maybe you had better look at them and find some fault."

Twilight came in as John studied the figures, making computations on a pad, asking questions which Constance found readily answerable.

And then John put the books and pads aside and sat in deep thought for a few moments.

"Chita," he said at length. "Chita, I've made up my mind what I'm going to do. Only twice before in my life have I found the desire to possess so strong that I let common sense go by the boards. I haven't been sorry."

"I put my business in good hands in the east. I'm free. You need someone here who can handle the family as well as the ranch. You can't."

"Frankly, I do not like the Taylors. I distrust that bluff, hearty attitude of the old man, and the young one you call Pedro is too smooth."

"I'm going to buy them out. I'm going to make them such a good offer they can't refuse without disclosing their hand."

Chita, you and I will fight them clear off of El Cabrillo!"

Constance found grace in the twilight. John couldn't see her eyes; couldn't read in them what was in her heart.

"We fight the Taylors," the Taylors were to be "bought off."

Constance felt the sustaining earth of El Cabrillo Rancho quiver beneath her.

John was assuming possession of El Cabrillo, as he had assumed possession of her.

And El Cabrillo was as powerless to fight him as she had been. She was bound by the fifty-thousand-dollar investment he had made in her.

El Cabrillo was bound by the three Cabbillos who could outvote her decision, for her final word lay only on the sale of the land.

"What do you think of it?" Constance was glad there were no electric lights. John couldn't press a switch and find the answer in her face. She must have time; time to find the answer.

"Spiritual Value"

"I DON'T know, John," she answered carefully, and her eyes were narrowed. "You have been on ranch property only a little more than twenty-four hours and you find its fascination driving you to possession. How do you think the Taylors who have lived here for more than fifteen years must feel?"

"Do you think money can buy them off? Don't you believe, with me, that this land holds something deeper, something with a spiritual value which transcends profit?"

"Ummm," murmured Rask-thorne. "I couldn't say that. Constance, to men who have only a few thousand dollars, an increase on those dollars is bound to count."

"Men, my dear child, look to security. If they can't find it in land belonging to someone else, then they expect their investments to provide it."

"And every man has his price!" Constance thought. "And every woman. Mine was fifty thousand. I bargained with you, John. I sold my right to love for that."

She didn't say it. She wondered why she had waited. And now it was too late. John, alert, confident, eager, had said he was going to do it. They'd discuss this further and he'd see Taylor at once.

Constance sat on in the darkness. Pedro, the smooth one, had said this was her fight. He hadn't offered to take responsibility from her shoulders. Was it that he hadn't cared? Was it the man-thought of dependence which had made him offer to ride with Donna. A symbol of every man's desire to have a woman lean on him. Or could it be that he respected her right to fight her own battle, preserve her own spiritual integrity?

Suddenly Constance sped from the room, through a side door, across the shadowy-deep space of the willow grove and up the hill. A fire was burning on the patio hearth. Peter Taylor's silver hair was burnished to copper by the glow.

Constance opened the door and slipped in. She went resolutely to him, paused beside the fireplace, and there she found herself defeated.

"Eh?" Peter Taylor sat up. "What is it, Michael? More trouble?"

Slim, boyish hands clasped behind her. Constance stood, blue eyes dark with worry. "No," she replied slowly. "No, Peter Taylor. I guess, after all, I'm a woman. It's difficult to face things like a man. I guess..." she hesitated. "I guess I made a mistake coming."

"Come here," Constance approached him slowly.

"What is it?" demanded Taylor. Behind her the fire crackled; behind her the mantel clock ticked off the moments.

"I can't do it, Peter," she sighed. "I... I... I'm trying to be loyal to too many people. I... I only wanted you to promise me that if... if you were called upon to make a decision, you would be true to yourself. I mean, you—"

"Come here, Mike," He patted his knee. "Haven't had a pretty girl perched on there for forty years. Now listen. I'm not a sissy. I know what I want and I know what I'm going to have. And hell and high water aren't going to keep me from it... understand?"

Constance sat rigid.

Quietly Merry

"YOU'RE so explicit," she murmured.

"All right, you want me to be true to myself. Well, listen, young Michael Mahoney, you do that. Don't sell out. Understand?"

Constance leaned forward, took the white head in her hands and kissed Peter Taylor on the brow.

"You old sun-of-a-gun," she whispered. "I hope they string you from a good tall Eucalyptus."

"Necks" too tough," he chuckled. "Go on down and eat your supper and get a good sleep. You look like one of these here swooning movie stars. I like my girls up and coming."

Constance sped down the hill like a shadow, wondering why Pedro hadn't taken after his father.

Dinner was a quietly merry affair. Everyone, including Constance, was in good spirits.

There was a station wagon in Beachport, it would be ready for delivery the next day. Don reported. Don was "high." Donna said. He'd found an amazing reception in the coast city.

"The Cabbillos take here," he opined. "Why, say, even the electric company said they'd have men out in the morning and would do their best to have the house wired and a temporary line run in to carry us over the week end."

Donna had a "date" with Pedro. She'd accidentally run into him in the patio. "He was looking for you, sis," she conceded. "Wanted to ask for some blanks, but—"

and she smiled triumphantly, "he didn't discuss blanks with me."

Nadine Cabbillo was interested in the ranch house. She had made a tour, accompanied by Juliano and maids, to the guest rooms. "Major Pinkard is coming," she explained, cheeks pink. "He's very appreciative of old things."

John heartened them with his resumé of the ride and his confidence in the ranch.

And Constance let the talk flow over her like soothing waves. From Peter Taylor she had carried something solid and sure. She wouldn't "sell out." She'd fight through even though it meant losing El Cabrillo to John.

For the next four days she was too busy to think. Don, Nadine, and Juliano required the service of the men who usually attended to ranch routine. Lamson and she tried to take their places.

The guests arrived Friday night. Donna dejected, admitted that Pedro refused to be "shown off like a blue-ribbon Holstein."

Constance was too submerged with work to appear, and slipped in and out of her room as quietly as possible.

Laughter, music, the tinkle of glasses, of bottles, of dishes, intruded into her sleep, but she must be up at four. Pedro, relaxing for a moment from his studied contentment, had said: "I'm taking Meg on in the morning, there won't be a man worthy of her shoes."

"It won't go on," Constance thought, as startled, she sat up when someone broke a bottle against the tree outside her window. "It can't," she thought, relaxed and went back to sleep.

At four o'clock she was up. At noon John came roaring back from the fiesta at Beachport. "There seems to be a parade," he explained, "and you have to lead it. I'm riding with Donna on the train, because Don insists upon driving his mother's carriage."

Constance looked at Pedersen. She thought, "I can't. My place is here, to give him the help he needs."

"Come on," urged John. "I'll wait for you at the house."

Politics In The Hair

HERE'S A CAMPAIGN coiffure on the blond head of Debutante Patricia Plunkett. Yep, she's for Roosevelt. That's why her hair style was inspired by the Democratic donkey. The idea is to comb the hair up on the sides to swirl into upstanding donkey ears. The center is brushed smoothly down into turned-under bangs. It's Charles of the Ritz's "For Roosevelt" style.

POLITICAL ENTHUSIASM goes to the head of pretty brunette Olive Cawley. This New York debutante got a political coiffure "after the G.O.P. elephant" to better emphasize her role as a Willkie supporter. The Republican version of headline fashion puts a pompadour in the form of a French roll from crown to forehead. An elephant's trunk is the general effect.

Troop Twelve Holds Enjoyable Meeting; Form Senior Patrol

At the weekly troop meeting of Troop Twelve at Lutheran parish house Tuesday evening Scoutmaster Leo Gleese read a letter from Scout Executive Calvin Hall commending the Scouts of Troop 12 for their fine spirit and hard work installing the pipe lines for the new water system at Camp Olmsted during the early summer.

Board of review was held for the month of September. Scout Commissioner Harold Gustin represented the county council. Commissioner Elton Davis was also present. Byron King was advanced to second class Scout.

Details of the organization of the new Troop Twelve senior patrol under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster John Larson were developed. This is a program of advanced Scouting.

At the close of the meeting a refreshment was held for the formal investiture ceremony which will take place Thursday evening at the father and son banquet sponsored by the First Lutheran Men's Brotherhood. At that time Gerald Nelson and John Morris will be invested as tenderfoot Scouts; Myron King as second class Scout, and Willard Smith, Jr., as first class Scout.

ADORABLE KIDDIE ENSEMBLE
PATTERN 4320

BY ANNE ADAMS

Even tiny tots may be smart "tailor-maids"! For is anything more beguiling than a small, sturdy figure in a trim little suit like Anne Adams Pattern 4320? The short, eight-gore skirt buttons onto the waist and flares jauntily above dimpled knees. Wouldn't it be dashing in a brave plaid, perhaps with the four-section cap to match? The jacket has a cunning hankie pocket. See how fresh and pretty the collar of the puffed-sleeve blouse looks worn outside the jacket! Why not make a smart wool suit and a two-piece cotton dress? And let the Sewing Instructor smooth the way!

Troop Twelve Holds Enjoyable Meeting; Form Senior Patrol

At the weekly troop meeting of Troop Twelve at Lutheran parish house Tuesday evening Scoutmaster Leo Gleese read a letter from Scout Executive Calvin Hall commending the Scouts of Troop 12 for their fine spirit and hard work installing the pipe lines for the new water system at Camp Olmsted during the early summer.

Board of review was held for the month of September. Scout Commissioner Harold Gustin represented the county council. Commissioner Elton Davis was also present. Byron King was advanced to second class Scout.

Details of the organization of the new Troop Twelve senior patrol under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster John Larson were developed. This is a program of advanced Scouting.

At the close of the meeting a rehearsal was held for the formal investiture ceremony which will take place Thursday evening at the father and son banquet sponsored by the First Lutheran Men's Brotherhood. At that time Gerald Nelson and John Morris will be invested as tenderfoot Scouts; Myron King as second class Scout, and Willard Smith, Jr., as first class Scout.

Mr. Bednar underwent an operation there a week ago Friday and is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mrs. William McCullough celebrated her birthday anniversary Sunday at her home on the Carland-Torpedo road, surrounded by her children and grandchildren. A bountiful birthday dinner was served, including a beautiful birthday cake baked by her daughter, Mrs. May Johnson, of Youngsville.

Mrs. McCullough received some very nice birthday gifts and birthday cards. Her birthday, however, was Saturday, September 14. The following children and grandchildren were present: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson and sons, Charles and Robert James, of Youngsville, and Mr. and Mrs. William Gray and daughter, Alice, of Garland.

LOTS OF MUD

To carry the load of mud and silt borne by the Mississippi river into the Gulf of Mexico every day 900 trains of 50 cars each, with every car carrying 50 tons, would be required.

GOOD CUSTOMERS

Easton, Sept. 19--(P)--Never has the Northampton county marriage license bureau had better customers than Robert Subert and Helen D. Brower, both of Newark, N. J., says Clerk Harold Adam.

They took out their fifth license the other day. After each of their four previous applications they failed to make use of their permits within the 60-day expiration period.

SALAD DAYS?

Pittsburgh, Sept. 19--(P)--Salads will help 19-year-old Bill Donaldson, of Beaver Falls, enter Pitt medical school this fall.

As salad chef in a Chauteau, N. Y., restaurant during the summer, he made an average of 250 salads of six different varieties each day for seven weeks. He plans to continue the work next year.

STEEL FOR WASHINGTON

During 1938, 1,138,000 washing machines were sold in the United States. Steel used in the manufacture of these machines amounted to 20,000 gross tons, on a basic average of 57 pounds of steel for each unit.

Late Summer Brings Zest to Riding

POLITICAL FORUM

Articles appearing in this department are furnished by representatives of the respective parties in Warren county and are not intended to reflect the views or opinions of the publisher.

REPUBLICAN

It has been obvious for a long time that Franklin D. Roosevelt and his New Deal Administration do not trust the American people. The reasons for this lack of faith are not hard to find. In the first place, the advisors with whom the President has surrounded himself are, to a man, opposed to the traditional system of free enterprise which has made America great. They are worshippers of the Super-State and incidentally of their own exalted positions of control. They have no respect for individual rights because they have no respect for the individual American.

Nor has the "Great Humanitarian", himself, any real respect for the average citizen. Roosevelt has nothing in common with the common man. He has never had to work either as a laborer or as a manager. There is nothing in his experience to bring him close to the great mass of Americans. In fact, quite the opposite.

Franklin D. Roosevelt inherited from his father not only a secure fortune but a pre-Civil War mentality. He has never been able to escape the consequences of his early training. Brought up as a member of the landed gentry, he has never outgrown the lordly attitude that was fashionable along the Hudson River in the 80's and 90's. The comfortable gentlemen of that era looked with extreme disfavor upon the rapid business growth and industrialization that followed the civil war. They looked down upon business success as they did upon all mercantile pursuits, and that attitude is reflected today in the administration's lack of understanding of the motives and problems that confront businessmen.

But the lordly attitude does not stop there. Franklin D. Roosevelt has no more feeling for the American worker than the feudal landlord had for his tenants. When the American people cry out in distress, the only remedy that their President can think of is charity. He has no conception of the American desire to make one's own way in the world. He can think of nothing except scattering pennies to the poor. This is the Roosevelt tradition. Americans want jobs and the opportunities for advancement that go with jobs. Americans believe in the dignity and value of labor.

DEMOCRAT

Mr. Willkie's warm approval of conscripting human beings and hot opposition to the drafting of property when its owners are recalcitrant was given a thorough going over in the United States Senate. It was an illuminating exposure of the power trust candidate's real feelings as well as a disclosure of his ignorance of public affairs.

Senator Russell of Georgia, one of the authors of the amendment which would give the Government power to take over industrial concerns and facilities in an emergency, began the exposure. Dismissing "many misstatements of fact" in the Willkie interview attacking the amendment, Senator Russell took up the question as to whether the candidate's convictions, "if any," he said, "it may be taken as a correct statement of Mr. Willkie's philosophy of government, and that it sets forth his ideas of the relative values of human beings who are American citizens, and dollars which are the property of American citizens."

"If I correctly understand Mr. Willkie's statement, he is a strong advocate of drafting the blood and lives of American youth, but Mr. Willkie is violently opposed to the action of the Senate affecting business. In other words, it is Mr. Willkie's position that it is an act of the highest patriotism to vote for a draft of young men and their lives, but ardent demagoguery to say that all of our resources and every segment of our national life shall respond in this hour of emergency when needed."

"I ask him to tell the American people whether he favors any limitation whatever on the swollen profits which may accrue to the manufacturers of war supplies in this period when we are spending billions of dollars to prepare our nation for any eventuality. Or does he think that business and industry should be unrestrained in dipping their hands into the public treasury during this period of enormous expenditures for the machinery of war?"

Senator Russell quoted Mr. Willkie's statement saying that no such "sweeping powers" had ever been granted before and showed that he simply did not know what he was talking about because an even more drastic law had been passed in 1916.

Senator Lee of Oklahoma, interrupted to say: "Mr. Willkie in the same interview expresses his approval again of a selective draft system to take boys, he is perfectly willing to draft the young men of this country, and, if need be, to send them to their death, but he objects to taking property."

Recalling the fact that Eugene Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, had testified "in violent terms" before the Munitions Committee against paying a bonus to soldiers of the World War, Senator Clark of Missouri said: "When asked by myself exactly how much he received as a bonus during the two years the United States was engaged in the war, he testified, as I recall, that he received the very modest bonus of $2,888,000 for his services in making steel, a safe risk, at Bethlehem, Pa. I wonder if it is such people as that that Mr. Willkie is concerned to protect."

COULDN'T BEND OVER WITHOUT HAVING TERRIBLE BACK PAINS

Nearby resident tells also of quivery nerves that had her up 3 or 4 times every night, until Vendol relieved constipation.

There are men and women in this city and nearby vicinity, suffering from pains in their arms, shoulders, back, legs, and ankles, and whose muscles seem tired and sore, who believe they have rheumatism, neuritis, or some other horrible trouble, when all they need is to take a few bottles of Vendol and get thorough relief from constipation and their kidneys acting freely; then these aches and pains will disappear.

Learn how Vendol can help you as it has so many of the best people in this neighborhood. Come to Miller's Cut Rate; ask for me, the Vendol Man, and I will explain all about this famous Root, Herb, and Alkaline medicine; let you sample it, and tell you honestly whether it fits your case. Vendol is for sale at all leading drug stores.

Mrs. Albertina Babb, of 41 Barker Street, Jamestown, recently said, "I had been troubled a long time by constipation and sluggish, infrequent kidney action, and this was filling me with aches and pains. Really, I couldn't stoop or bend over without having awful pains across my back; and my arms, shoulders, and legs were so painful that I could hardly stand at times."

In addition to this, my nerves were so quivery that I'd roll and toss at night and would often get up three or four times to try to steady myself. This was dragging on my general health and got me to a point where I was looking bad and feeling bad most all the time.

"I was attracted to Vendol by the recommendation of well known people living all around here, so started taking it, and also the little Vendol laxative tablets, and in all my life I can't remember when I felt so good. My constipation was cured, and my aches and pains, stiffness, and nervousness disappeared. My muscles seemed to grow, lose each day, till now I seldom have a pain at all. My nerves seem to relax so that my sleep has become peaceful and I feel up mornings with a rested and refreshed feeling."

"I gladly recommend that anyone suffering from the same troubles start taking Vendol at once, because I'm sure it will help him too."

New York, Sept. 19—(P)—The New York Times, which supported Franklin D. Roosevelt for presi- dent in 1932 and 1936, came out against a third term today in an editorial supporting Wendell L. Willkie.

The Times, an independent-Dem- ocratic newspaper, has not sup- ported a Republican presidential candidate since 1920. Observing that it was making its choice in "one of the greatest crises of this nation's history," the paper said it chose Willkie "primarily for these reasons":

"Because we believe he is bet- ter equipped than Mr. Roosevelt to provided this country with an ade- quate defense; because we believe he is a practical liberal who un- derstands the need of increased production; because we believe that the fiscal policies of Mr. Roosevelt have failed disastrously; because we believe that at a time when the traditional safeguards of democracy are falling everywhere it is particularly important to honor and preserve the American tra- dition against vesting the enor- mous powers of the presidency in the hands of any man for three consecutive terms of office."

Recalling the fact that Eugene Grant, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, had testified "in violent terms" before the Mun- icipality Committee against paying a bonus to soldiers of the World War, Senator Clark of Missouri said: "When asked by myself ex- actly how much he received as a bonus during the two years the United States was engaged in the war, he testified, as I recall, that he received the very modest bonus of $2,888,000 for his services in making steel as safe as Bethlehem, Pa. To Discuss Sale of Christmas Seals At Bradford Gathering

"In this period of stress, with the problems facing the people of Pennsylvania and the United States, it is imperative that the effort to control tuberculosis should not lag."

Dr. W. W. Comfort, president of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, made the above statement in announcing that the second of a series of sectional conferences to plan for the 34th annual Christmas Seal Sale will be held in Bradford at The Emery next Wednesday, September 25.

"In addition to maintaining the tuberculosis program new problems face the agencies engaged in this work," continued Dr. Comfort. "An examination of recruits uncovers unsuspected cases of tuberculosis which call for follow-up work. This activity is in line with similar service rendered during the World War."

"Preventing tuberculosis and promoting public health constitute vital factors in the first line of defense."

The speaker at the luncheon session will be C. W. Lillibridge, superintendent of McKean County schools.

The National Tuberculosis Association will be represented by Miss Frances Brophy at this conference for northwestern Pennsylvania which is being arranged by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society. Its affiliated county organizations from these counties are included in the conference: Cameron, Clarion, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Forest, Jefferson, McKean, Mercer, Potter, Tioga, Warren and Venango.

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Didn't someone once say, "Women always have the last word"? That is sometimes true in bridge. You may hold a seven or eight-card suit and find that your partner wants to have the last word in the bidding, but you can't win championships unless you recognize the bidding as a partnership.

Mrs. J. E. Waidlich, who won the national women's pair championship this year with Mrs. E. W. Atkinson, gave a nice example of partnership co-operation in today's hand.

You will note that she started the bidding with one club, and when her partner bid a heart, Mrs. Waidlich bid two clubs, then jumped to four clubs over her partner's two diamonds. When her partner bid four hearts, however, Mrs. Waidlich quickly supported the diamond suit, enabling East to bid six. Very few players played the hand in diamonds, most of them insisting upon playing it in clubs, but the new champions not only made six diamonds but an overtrick as well.

The play of the hand was as follows:

East won the opening lead with the ten of diamonds. A low heart was led and ruffed in dummy, and East ruffed the return lead of a low club. A second heart was ruffed. A second club ruff put East in again to take out trumps. Then the ace of spades gave entry to run the solid clubs.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, pain under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the millions of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

G. O. P. CARAVAN OPENS CAMPAIGN AT SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, Sept. 18.—The political campaign in Sheffield was launched Monday night with the appearance here of a Republican caravan, from which were shown sound motion pictures advocating the Republican cause.

The caravan was parked in the driveway of the township building, South Main street and a crowd of about 150 persons was present to see and hear the program.

"Taxes," "Let's Keep America Free" and "We the People" were the titles of the three reels shown, the last featuring Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential nominee. The "Let's Keep America Free" picture featured an address by Jay Cooke, candidate for member of the U. S. Senate.

The program was announced by A. C. Flick of Warren.

FORESTER SPEAKS

Sixteen members and one guest were present at the regular luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday noon in Cederloft Hall.

F. Hemingway, of Warren, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest, was the speaker, his subject being the forest he manages. Interesting facts about the forest, including statistical data concerning commercial products derived from it during the past year, were cited by the speaker.

It was announced following the meeting that the club is considering sponsoring a second Institute of International Understanding lecture course, the first course having been presented here last winter. Final decision on the matter was deferred until a later meeting.

NEW SOCIETY MEETS

The Women's Society of Christian Service, newly formed organization of the Methodist church, held a special meeting yesterday afternoon in the social rooms of the church. Enrollment of members was the principal business. Mrs. L. O. Eisenhauer presided. Forty-six ladies were present at the session, initial meeting of the society. Refreshments were served.

SAFETY RALLY

Willford Host, safety director for the Central Pennsylvania Lumber Company, announced yesterday that the safety department of the firm, in conjunction with the Employers Mutual Insurance Company, is sponsoring a safety rally Friday evening, this week in the I. O. O. F. hall at which many new ideas for the promotion of industrial, domestic and everyday safety will be presented.

Talking motion pictures, containing all the latest ideas in safety promotion will be shown by Richard Squires, of Philadelphia, insurance company representative.

Additional inducement to attend will be provided in the form of door prizes, Mr. Host, who will be in charge of the program, announced.

Although others have been invited, the rally has been arranged for the lumber company employees and it is expected that the majority from all three departments of the manufacturing concern—mill, woods and transportation—will attend.

The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock standard time.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET

The 1940 reorganization meeting of the Sheffield Township Republican Club will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. The business session, which will include the election of officers, will be followed by a social session. Games, with prizes to be awarded the winners, will comprise the entertainment. Refreshments will be served.

WIDENING HIGHWAY

Long-needed improvement of the West Main street highway was begun this week when grading, form-setting and other work incidental to widening the pavement was started by the contractor in charge of the paving project. The pavement will be widened by four feet, on the northeast side, from the Lincoln school west to a point near the Highway Garage.

DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM

A good time is in store for all who attend the Democratic meeting and rally which will be held in the local Democratic Club's headquarters in the Hinkley-Anderson building, Center street, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock standard time.

The committee in charge has arranged as the feature entertainment a splendid program of music. The North Warren Troubadours will be featured along with some of Sheffield's best musical talent. Local contributors to the program will include Mary Pat O'Connor, violinist, a vocal trio consisting of Louise Annundson, Marjorie Carlson and Jeanne Brainer, Harampoulis, and John Frontera, clarinetist. Misses Josephine Okerberg and Margaret Peterson will be accompanists for Miss O'Connor and Mr. Frontera, respectively.

The speaking program will be headed by Attorney John F. Boland, of Sharon, candidate for congress from the 20th district. Warren County Democratic Chairman C. Henry Nicholson, candidate for the state assembly, will also be a speaker.

The formal part of the meeting will be followed by a social hour, during which refreshments will be served by a committee of lady members of the local club.

All Democrats and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

Your Screen Test

By ROBBIN COONS

1. She started a fashion when she came to Hollywood but now is the first time she's wearing 'em on the screen (as in the picture). Who is she and what's the movie? By the way, what's her real name?
2. Age is everything in Hollywood. Which is older—Linda Darnell, the glamour gal, or Deanna Durbin, the child singer?
3. Tyrone Power will be starred in a new version of a famous silent film of the sea. What's the title? What famous redhead made her film debut in the original film?
4. F. Hugh Herbert's friends consider him daft if he suddenly cried "Woo-woo"?
5. How's your jargon today? Can you identify the set workers known as: (a) The best boy? (b) The gaffer? (c) The juicer? (d) The genius?

Count 20 points for each question correctly answered. A score of 60 is good, 80 is excellent, and 90 or above is colossal.

NIGHT SCHOOL REGISTRATION NEXT TUESDAY

Enrollment for regular night school as conducted in Warren Borough in past years will take place at the high school building on Tuesday evening, September 24 at 7:30. Classes will be established if fifteen or more individuals enroll at this preliminary meeting and the regular sessions will start on Monday evening, September 30.

In past years classes have been conducted in bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, blue print reading, mechanical drawing, and in connection with Pennsylvania State College Extension Division, classes in the oil and gas industry and related subjects.

This night school program is not to be confused with the Defense Training Program which is also in the process of organization under the direction of the local Board of School Directors. Its program is open to adults in Warren Borough in such subjects as are ordinarily taught in the public schools with no tuition charge. There is a tuition charge for individuals living outside of the borough and such individuals will be accommodated only if there is room for their accommodation in classes called for by residents of the borough.

All persons interested are urged to attend this registration since this is the only time of registration during the school year.

Your Screen Test

By ROBBIN COONS

1. She started a fashion when she came to Hollywood but now is the first time she's wearing 'em on the screen (as in the picture). Who is she and what's the movie? By the way, what's her real name?
2. Age is everything in Hollywood. Which is older—Linda Darnell, the glamour gal, or Deanna Durbin, the child singer?
3. Tyrone will be starred in a new version of a famous silent film of the sea. What's the title? What famous redhead made her film debut in the original film?
4. Would F. Hugh Herbert's friends consider him daft if he suddenly cried "Woo-woo"?
5. How's your jargon today? Can you identify the set workers known as: (a) The best boy? (b) The gaffer? (c) The juicer? (d) The genius?

Count 20 points for each question correctly answered. A score of 60 is good, 80 is excellent, and 90 or above is colossal.

Warren county commissioners sons who might be asked to serve will go to Harrishaw next Mon. Appointees must be approved by

Each board of county commissioners has more direct contacts with the election officers and the various political places," the governor explained.

The election officials will be asked to serve without pay "as a patriotic duty" in registering all males citizens and aliens between the ages of 21 and 35, in the 1967-68 election year.

Partiality shown during 1917-18 in exempting certain young men because of social status, financial or political influence, we sincerely urge you that persons who are to be included on the membership of the various boards to promote the occurrence of scandal caused by partiality and favoritism in selections for national defense service."

A study committee chosen at a recent meeting composed of Mrs. J. H. Crooks, Mrs. N. A. Crooks, Mrs. Clyde Ladlow, Mrs. M. D. Gardner and Mrs. L. V. Smith met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. P. R. Duntley, where plans were discussed for the coming charter meeting on Thursday, September 26, in the Corydon Methodist church, provided these plans are approved by the pastor returning this week from the Methodist conference convening the past week in New Castle.

A nomination committee has also been selected and held a meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Marion Edwards for the purpose of nominating officers for the newly named society.

This change does not mean dis-

bandment of the long established and popular Ladies' Aid, rather it is stepping stones to progress not only for members but the society itself and changes will be made gradual for improvement. Every woman interested in the church and community affairs is urged and welcome to attend the charter meeting that will be followed by a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Rubie Wilcox Day.

WARREN COUNTY COMMISSIONERS INVITED TO HARRISBURG SESSION TO DISCUSS DRAFT ARRANGEMENTS

Warren county commissioners will go to Harrisburg next Monday at Governor James' invitation to meet with commissioners from the other 66 counties to hear plans for setting Pennsylvania's draft machinery into motion.

Issuing a proclamation calling upon an estimated 1,500,000 Pennsylvanians to register October 16 for possible military service, the governor announced yesterday he had asked the commissioners to assemble in Harrisburg "to discuss ways and means of promoting registration of those to be called in the draft," says an Associated Press dispatch.

"Each board of county commissioners has more direct contacts with the election officers and the various polling places," the governor explained.

The election officials will be asked to serve without pay "as a patriotic duty" in registering all males—citizens and aliens—between the ages of 21 and 35, inclusive, at the state's 8,069 polling places.

The governor said he "hasn't the least idea" who will be chosen as selective service draft director for the state, and was uncertain whether he has authority to appoint the 420 local draft boards. He said the department of military affairs had supplied him with the names of approximately 2,500 persons who might be asked to serve. Appointees must be approved by the president.

Hardly had James issued his proclamation than the Pennsylvania department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, declared "reports are current that the majority of the members of the draft boards will be political."

"We feel positive that this is untrue since no responsible appointive power, regardless of how partisan he may be, would inject politics into this very serious work and duty," wrote Leo Moerschbacher, department commander.

"In view of the reproachable partiality shown during 1917-18 in exempting certain young men because of social status, financial or political influence, we sincerely urge you that overseas war veterans be included on the membership of the various boards to prevent the recurrence of scandals caused by partiality and favoritism in selections for national defense service."

In his proclamation, James referred briefly to enactment of the draft law and the president's proclamation of October 16 as registration day, and commented:

"It becomes the duty of all Pennsylvanians, as citizens of the commonwealth which gave to the nation the Declaration of Independence and the constitution of the United States, to respond as they always have done, in the traditional manner of their forefathers, to this summons for national defense."

"I call upon all the citizens of this commonwealth to give liberally of their services, as will those who are included in the selective service program, in the interest of protecting our nation at home and abroad."

Specifically, he directed "all officials, state, county, city, borough and township x x x and employees thereof to do and perform all acts and services necessary to accomplish effective and complete registration," called upon election officials to "offer their services as members of the boards of registration and to provide suitable and sufficient places for the performance of this duty," and asked all employers to give their men time off to register.

"It is pleasing to announce that Pennsylvania has already shown its patriotism by officers of volunteer services which have come to us from all parts of the commonwealth," the proclamation concluded.

A study committee chosen at a recent meeting composed of Mrs. J. K. Crooks, Mrs. N. A. Crooks, Mrs. Clyde LaDow, Mrs. M. D. Gardner and Mrs. L. V. Smith met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. P. R. Dunleavy, where plans were discussed for the coming charter meeting on Thursday, September 26, in the Corydon Methodist church, provided these plans are approved by the pastor returning this week from the Methodist conference convening the past week in New Castle.

A nomination committee has also been selected and held a meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Marion Edwards for the purpose of nominating officers for the newly named society.

This change does not mean dis-

bandment of the long established and popular Ladies' Aid, rather it is stepping stones to progress not only for members but the society itself and changes will be made gradual for improvement. Every woman interested in the church and community affairs is urged and welcome to attend the charter meeting that will be followed by a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Rubie Wilcox Day.

Keystone Dealers Sponsor P. A. System

The Red Jacket football team's management announced this morning that the Keystone gasoline dealers have agreed to sponsor the public address system used at all home games of the local independent gridders, starting with the opening contest next Sunday at 2:30 o'clock with the Springfield Athletic Club.

The public address system has been a popular feature here for the past several seasons, being used to identify the players and report yardage of each play.

Scrimmage sessions have been the order this week with the local pros, and Coach Elmo Wolfe stated that due to some fine wings and fleet backs the Jackets will concentrate on an extremely open game which will contain more razzle dazzle and fewer line hucks.

Stanchiff of the Plate Floor hit .541 for high total, while Hartnett of Foremen "B" and Hunter of Engineers tied for high single game with 202.

WATERFORD PLAYING EAGLES TOMORROW

The Young-vile Eagles will play host to the Waterford High eleven tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Wilder Field, Irvine, seeking their first win of the season.

After fine showings in their first games the Red and White gridders are favorites to emerge victorious as Waterford was drubbed 48-0 by the Sheffield Wolverines last Saturday.

Except for Tackle Hedstrom, who suffered a knee injury and will be out of action for another week, the Eagles will be at full strength. The week's drills have been devoted to running out some of the rough spots which showed up in the Cory game and developing a scoring punch.

Yesterday's Stars

Stan Hack Cubs hit two home runs and two singles against Giants.

Jim Tobin Bees beat Pirates with five-hit pitching.

Johnny Allen and Bob Feller Indians—Allen pitched six-hit ball and Feller five to take doubleheader from Senators.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

Our sympathies to our neighboring city of Jamestown, which lost its athletic field program by the margin of one councilman after the Citizens Committee had worked for over a year to raise part of the needed funds, arrange for the purchase of the site and put Jamestown back in its groove in the sports world. Stu Maguire, sports plenipotentiary of the Evening Journal, dropped the sulphuric acid on those who voted "No," but from what we have heard, his observations were a recital of May's Little Lamb compared with the comments of the man on the street, who can see his baseball going back to the horse and buggy days, just when the Pony League was going along nicely. Sports fans of Warren can sympathize with the Jamestowners—we thought we were going to have a real community park here, too. But let's not get onto that subject again—this is a family newspaper, and we have to be careful what goes through the mails.

Maguire sayeth in part:

"A minority of Jamestown's City Council (E4 note. It takes two-thirds to confirm such a proposal and it missed by a single vote) duly assembled in regular meeting, drew a curtain across the sun, turned back the clock for several decades and swung a bootjack on the Municipal Stadium project. Mindful of a taxpayer's exigencies, this pillar would never dare assail such an action were it not for the fact that the contemplated home for Jamestown's PL ball club and other sports enterprises would become a revenue-producing enterprise: in fact, a source of supply of shelds which after a few years could be poured as profits into the municipal exchequer. It seemed to your correspondent in the august Council chamber that a minority of City Council was taking the national pastime as a rustic relic, unimpaired of the thousands of Jamestown and vicinity residents who derive pleasure from baseball games and also find an excellent opportunity to fill their lungs with following the fortunes of the Pony League team, cheering for the Mundy league heroes, and shouting encouragement to the youngsters in American Legion or other competition."

You have something there, Stuart. We can point out our own community as an example of what occurs when the municipality fails to provide proper facilities for organized sport. The lack of tennis courts has kept the net game from enjoying the popularity it has elsewhere, the messing up of the athletic field proposal killed off the Sunset League, which attracted fans to the game and which gave many a youngster a chance to develop himself as a player, and many an older player plenty of enjoyment out of the last years of his active diamond career; the lack of a swimming pool has robbed both young and old of the opportunity to indulge in the one sport that anyone can engage in for unlimited number of years. All of these facilities, and others, too, could have been provided for in the plan which the joint committee considered at one time, and Warren could have come back not only as an athletic center, but as a community which offered recreational facilities to every one of its citizens. The borough has provided the children up to a certain age with playgrounds—that's very commendable. But for the older boys and girls and for adults there is nothing except an occasional park bench.

YEARS AGO IN SPORTS

September 10, 1920—Coach J. B. Leiding stated today that in addition to the eleven men he named yesterday as probable starters, he has one of the nicest bunch of reserves he has had in the eight years he has been in Warren. They include: Arnold Bloomgren, Davidson, Carlson, Edris Foley, Gaughy, Head, Henry, Lowe, McCurdy, Nathan, R. Peterson, Raisor, Seale, Schuler, Smith, Walters, Kistler and Kornreich. The candidates are being given a tryout this afternoon against an alumni team and will play Youngville next Tuesday afternoon.

September 19, 1920—Tim Greel and Berardino are probable starters in the Dragons' opener with Sheffield tomorrow, and Gettings will probably be able to play. Donovan is definitely out with a foot injury, so Walt Confer gets his chance in the backfield. On the line "J. D." Sealise will be at center, Irwin and Kopf guards Gilson and Moran tackles. Murphy and Ayberg ends.

VETERAN ELEVEN AT CLARION IS READY TO MOVE

Clarion, Sept. 19.—(P.)—Clarion Teachers think this is their year in football, what with almost the entire 1939 team returning.

"Things look pretty fair," declares Coach Waldo Tippen. "With our small squad a great deal depends on injuries, but we are hoping to go through this season unbeaten."

And with one exception, the 1940 schedule is the same as last year when the Teachers chalked up five triumphs against one setback and a tie. Missing from the card is Hiram, conqueror of the Clarion outfit to the tune of 26-7 last year.

Among 16 lettermen back in the fold is William Sheridan, New Bethlehem halfback who scored 51 of Clarion's 124 points in the 1939 campaign to place among the nation's top point makers.

Tippen says Sheridan isn't as heavy this season and should improve in scoring, with speed. Right now the halfback is nursing an ankle injury suffered when hit by a high school player while helping his former coach with grid drills.

Tippen also is expecting great things from J. O'Brien, of Clarion outstanding blocking back and kicker, William Bratkovich, running guard from Jeannette, and Tackle J. Welzel of New Bethlehem.

Graduation removed from the squad Captain and Guard James Meyers, Ende-Marshall Tooks, Reserve Guard Charles Beskid, while Regular Center Robert Matland received an appointment to West Point.

The schedule.

CHAMPS SAVING WHOOPIE PARTY UNTIL TONIGHT

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—(P.)—The champions of the National League—the Cincinnati Reds—don't care what team wins the American League pennant, but General Manager Warren Giles hopes it's Detroit.

Giles watch his club clinch their second straight flag by coming from behind yesterday to beat the Phils, 4 to 3, in 13 innings as Brooklyn lost to St. Louis.

"We'd probably draw more in dollars and cents if we play Cleveland," Giles said, "but then that dissension sort of takes the bang out of it."

"In spite of what a lot of people might think, ball clubs consider more things than money. I don't care who wins the American League pennant—we'll beat whoever it is—but I think we'd do better with Detroit than any other team."

The Reds whooped it up in their dressing room after Southpaw Johnny Vander Meer scored the winning run in the 13th, but the big celebration was reserved for tonight. The boys want Paul Deringer to win his 20th game against the Phils today.

"We'll celebrate tonight," explained Manager Deacon Bill McKechnie. "We have a day off tomorrow. Today we play ball. The boys deserve a celebration."

McKechnie had heaps of praise for Jimmy Wilson, 40-year-old coach who returned to active duty behind the bat after Ernie Lombardi was hurt.

"I don't believe anyone realizes what Jimmy was meant to this team," the deacon said. "When we were in that Brooklyn series and every game was a money game it was Jimmy who pulled through. It was Jimmy who caught the rest of the game when Lombardi sprained his ankle, and it was Jimmy who caught the next two wins over the Dodgers. It was Jimmy who really put us over the top."

THREE NETTERS IN COUNTY SEMI-FINALS

Three players have reached the semi-finals of the Warren County Tennis tournament, play in which has been practically halted for two weeks because of frequent rain.

"Jap" Conroy, who disposed of Dr. A. F. Yeig, will meet Frank Irvin, who last night turned back Stanley Korb, 6-0, 6-3, while the third semi-finalist is Dr. Albert Crevello, who defeated "Red" Mullen, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Dr. Crevello will meet the winner of the Holt-Father Jacobs quarter-final match.

Defending Champion Larry Amy has withdrawn.

TOBY LYONS DROPS OUT OF TOURNAMENT

Cambridge Springs, Sept. 19.—(P.)—With West Penn Amateur Champion Toby Lyons out of the running because of a bad cold, Jack Benson of Pittsburgh was the player to beat today in the Riverdale Golf Club annual invitation tournament.

Lyons, the medalist, defaulted his first round match yesterday to Leonard Rozenmeyer of Meadville, who then put out Durbin McGraw of Oakmont 2 and 1 to reach the 1. Benson meets Earl Amundson of Penn. amateur titleholder, chimed. Olean, N. Y., in the semi-finals to dated Don O'Connor of Corry 5 day while Rozenmeyer tackles and 4 and R. L. Dyer, of Erie. 2 Guy McCall of Buffalo, N. Y.

Owners Want Baseball to Be Civic Undertaking, But Quadruple Prices in Unfair Three-Lot Plan For Patrons Who Have Supported Club All Year

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

OWNERS want professional baseball treated as a community enterprise in which the entire city shares partnership. Fans are asked to support a losing club as well as a winning one and, generally speaking, do a fair job of it. If they didn't, there would be no professional baseball today. Magnates encourage Stick-to-the-Finish Clubs, etc.

But when the customers finally get a championship outfit for which to root, world series prices are jacked up out of the reach of the great majority of loyal patrons... to more than four times those of the regular season.

Box seats are raised from $1.60 to $6.55, reserved from $1.35 to $5.65, general admission from 85 cents and $1.10 to $3.45, and the bleachers from 35 cents to $1.15.

To make matters worse, tickets must be purchased in three-game lots. Gus Fan can't buy one or two tickets for a single game. If he desires to see the world series, for which he has been pulling all year, and is willing to attend alone, he must dig up $20.55 if he cares to park himself in a box, $16.95 if he chooses to occupy a reserved seat, or $10.35 if he is satisfied just to get in the park.

If someone is to accompany him—and who wants to attend a ball game alone?—he must cough up $41.10, $33.90 or $20.75, depending on the location.

SPECULATORS reap a harvest because of the three-game lot system. It makes it easier for scalpers to obtain pastboards. Unless he has a friend with an extra ticket, the man taking in a single game has no other purchasing source.

All tickets except bleachers and standing room, the latter at $3.45 a sardine, go on sale in advance, but it is graciously announced that bleachers and standing room will be thrown open on the morning of each game. Now that the big day has come, those who shouted themselves hoarse all season, but can't afford the increased tariff now, can stand in line and take their chance.

Owners claim that any other plan is impracticable. They contend there is no other way of disposing of say the $1,000 seats in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium... at those prices. They can do it on any given day of the season... at regular rates, but frankly admit outsiders have to be counted on and the bulk of the home trade slighted to make possible rich world series games.

The Yankee Stadium has yet to be completely sold out for a world series game.

THEY point to a lack of time when a race is as close as the current one in the American League, yet in April to October—you can get in on an hour's notice as long as seats are available.

They point to the danger of bad weather, and the possibility of playing to a small turnout on that account. Well, who should run the risk... the paying guest or the players they support and who share in the first four games?

They declare the prize has to be high to keep the noble athletes hustling throughout the season. Isn't that rich? Without baseball, most players would sit and whittle.

Professional baseball's excuses for the gouging of and rank injustice to its followers are flimsy.

The world series is the most crucial part of what is called the national game, and it is taken out of the reach of the average person who makes it possible.

EIGHT TEAMS IN NEW STRUTHERS WELLS CIRCUIT

The newly organized Struthers-Wells eight-team bowling league touched off the fuse at the Arcade last night, with the Process department getting away to an early lead with a clean sweep over Sales.

Three-point decisions were clinched up by Plate Floor over Machine Shop and by Foremen "B" over Foremen "A." The Heaters and the Engineers split even.

Standcliffe, of the Plate Floor, hit 541 for high total, while Hartnett of Foremen "B" and Hunter of Engineers tied for high single game with 202.

WATERFORD PLAYING EAGLES TOMORROW

The Youngville Eagles will play host to the Waterford High eleven tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Wilder Field, Irvine, seeking their first win of the season.

After fine showings in their first games the Red and White gridders are favorites to emerge victorious as Waterford was drubbed 48-0 by the Sheffield Wolverines last Saturday.

Except for Tackle Hedstrom, who suffered a knee injury and will be out of action for another week, the Eagles will be at full strength. The week's drills have been devoted to ironing out some of the rough spots which showed up in the Corry game and developing a scoring punch.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press
Stan Hack, Cubs—hit two home runs and two singles against Giants.
Jim Tobin, Bees—Beat Pirates with five-hit pitching.
Johnny Allen and Bob Feller, Indians—Allen pitched six-hit ball and Feller five to take doubleheader from Senators.

ANSWERS TO ART KRENTZ DO YOU KNOW—?

1. Alvin Ekberg, playing for Garrettsville high school of South Dakota, ran 60 or more yards to touchdowns in three consecutive games, and in each case the final gun went off while he was running.
2. Exterminator won the Saratoga Cup in 1919, '20, '21 and '22. He had a walkover in '21, an opposition having been withdrawn.
3. Robert Moses Grove won seven games in a week for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1931.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

Our sympathies to our neighboring city of Jamestown, which lost its athletic field program by the margin of one councilman after the Citizens Committee had worked for over a year to raise part of the needed funds, arrange for the purchase of the site and put Jamestown back in its groove in the sports world. Stu Maguire, sports plenipotentiary of the Evening Journal, dropped the sulphuric acid on those who voted "No," but from what we have heard, his observations were a recital of Mary's Little Lamb compared with the comments of the man on the street, who can see his baseball going back to the horse and buggy days, just when the Pony League was going along nicely. Sports fans of Warren can sympathize with the Jamestowners—we thought we were going to have a real community park here, too. But let's not get into that subject again—this is a family newspaper and we have to be careful what goes through the mails.

Maguire sayeth in part: "A minority of Jamestown's City Council (Ed. note: It takes two-thirds to confirm such a proposal and it missed by a single vote) duly assembled in regular meeting, drew a curtain across the sun, turned back the clock for several decades and swung a bootjack on the Municipal Stadium project. Mindful of a taxpayer's exigencies, this pillar would never dare assail such an action were it not for the fact that the contemplated home for Jamestown's PL ball club and other sports enterprises would become a revenue-producing enterprise, in fact, a source of supply of shekels which after a few years could be poured as profits into the municipal exchequer. It seemed to your correspondent in the august Council chamber that a minority of City Council was rating the national pastime as a rustic relic, unimpartial of the thousands of Jamestown and vicinity residents who derive pleasure from baseball games and also find an excellent opportunity to fill their lungs while following the fortunes of the Pony League team, cheering for the Muny league heroes, and shouting encouragement to the youngsters in American Legion or other competition."

You have something there, Stuart. We can point out our own community as an example of what occurs when the municipality fails to provide proper facilities for organized sport. The lack of tennis courts has kept the net game from enjoying the popularity it has elsewhere; the messing up of the athletic field proposal killed off the Sunset League, which attracted fans to the game and which gave many a youngster a chance to develop himself as a player, and many an older player plenty of enjoyment out of the last years of his active diamond career; the lack of a swimming pool has robbed both young and old of the opportunity to indulge in the one sport that anyone can engage in for an unlimited number of years. All of these facilities, and others, too, could have been provided for in the plan which the joint committee considered at one time, and Warren could have come back, not only as an athletic center, but as a community which offered recreational facilities to every one of its citizens. The borough has provided the children up to a certain age with playgrounds—that's very commendable. But for the older boys and girls and for adults there is nothing except an occasional park bench.

YEARS AGO IN SPORTS
September 19, 1920—Coach J. B. Leidig stated today that in addition to the eleven men he named yesterday as probable starters, he has one of the nicest bunch of reserves he has had in the eight years he has been in Warren. They include: Arnold, Bloomgren, Davidson, Carlson, Edris, Foley, Gaughn, Head, Henry, Lowe, McCurdy, Nathan, R. Peterson, Raisor, Scalsie, Schuler, Smith, Walters, Kistler and Kornie. The candidates are being given a tryout this afternoon against an alumni team and will play Youngville next Tuesday afternoon.

September 19, 1930—Tim Creal and Bevevino are positive starters in the Dragons' opener with Sheffield tomorrow, and Gettings will probably be able to play. Downey ran is definitely out with a foot injury, so Walt Conner gets his chance in the backfield. On the line "J. D." Scalsie will be at center, Irwin and Kopf guards, Gilson and Moran tackles, Murphy and Ayberg ends.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE ON SLIDES TONIGHT

The Commercial Bowling League, the second circuit to get going, will open its season at the Arcade tonight at seven o'clock with the O. K. Service meeting the Newell Press and the Sherwood Refinery tackling the National Forge.

At nine o'clock the Warren County News rolls Olson and Biers' Service Station and the Atlantic Service meets the West Ridge.

VETERAN ELEVEN AT CLARION IS READY TO MOVE

Clarion, Sept. 19.—(A.P.)—Clarion Teachers think this is their year in football, what with almost the entire 1939 team returning.

"Things look pretty fair," declares Coach Waldo Tippen. "With our small squad a great deal depends on injuries, but we are hoping to go through this season unbeaten."

And with one exception, the 1940 schedule is the same as last year when the Teachers chalked up five triumphs against one setback and a tie. Missing from the card is Hiram, conqueror of the Clarion outfit to the tune of 26-7 last year.

Among 16 lettermen back in the fold is William Sheridan, New Bethlehem halfback who scored 51 of Clarion's 124 points in the 1939 campaign to place among the nation's top point makers.

Tippen says Sheridan isn't as heavy this season and should improve his scoring with speed. Right now the halfback is nursing an ankle injury suffered when hit by a high school player while helping his former coach with grid drills.

Tippen also is expecting great things from J. O'Brien, of Clarion, outstanding blocking back and kicker, William Bratkovich, running guard from Jeannette, and Tackle J. Wetzel of New Bethlehem.

Graduation removed from the squad Captain and Guard James Meyers, Ende-Marshall Teets, Reserve Guard Charles Beskid, while Regular Center Robert Martland received an appointment to West Point.

The schedule:
Sept. 28—At Grove City.
Oct. 5—At Alliance.
Oct. 12—Tied.
Oct. 19—At Edinboro.
Oct. 26—California.
Nov. 2—Indiana Teachers.
Nov. 9—At Ithaca.

CHAMPS SAVING WHOOPIE PARTY UNTIL TONIGHT

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—(A.P.)—The champions of the National League—the Cincinnati Reds—don't care what team wins the American League pennant, but General Manager Warren Giles hopes it's Detroit.

Giles watch his club clinch their second straight flag by coming from behind yesterday to beat the Phillies, 4 to 3, in 13 innings as Brooklyn lost to St. Louis.

"We'd probably draw more in dollars and cents if we play Cleveland," Giles said, "but then that discussion sort of takes the bang out of it."

In spite of what a lot of people might think, ball clubs consider more things than money. I don't care who wins the American League pennant—I'll bet who ever it is—but I think we'd better with Detroit than any other team."

The Reds whooped it up in their dressing room after Southpaw Johnny Vander Meer scored the winning run in the 13th, but the big celebration was reserved for tonight. The boys want Paul Derringer to win his 20th game against the Phils today.

"We'll celebrate tonight," explained Manager Deacon Bill McKenchie. "We have a day off tomorrow. Today we play ball. The boys deserve a celebration."

McKenchie had heaps of praise for Jimmy Wilson, 40-year-old coach who returned to active duty behind the bat after Ernie Lombardi was hurt.

"I don't believe anyone realizes what Jimmy has meant to this team," the deacon said. "When we were in that Brooklyn series and every game was a money game it was Jimmy who pulled through. It was Jimmy who caught the rest of the game when Lombardi sprained his ankle, and it was Jimmy who caught the next two wins over the Dodgers. It was Jimmy who really put us over the top."

Three players have reached the semi-finals of the Warren County Tennis tournament, play in which has been practically halted for two weeks because of frequent rain.

"Jap" Conroy, who disposed of Dr. A. F. Yerg, will meet Frank Irvin, who last night turned back Stanley Korb, 6-0, 6-3, while the third semi-finalist is Dr. Albert Crevello, who defeated "Red" Mullen, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Dr. Crevello will meet the winner of the Holt-Father Jacobs quarter-final match.

Defending Champion Larry Amy has withdrawn.

TOBY LYONS DROPS OUT OF TOURNAMENT

Cambridge Springs, Sept. 19.—(A.P.)—West Penn Amateur Champion Toby Lyons out of the running because of a bad cold. Jack Benson of Pittsburgh was the player to beat today in the Riverside Golf Club annual invitation tournament.

Lyons, the medalist, defaulted his first round match yesterday to Leonard Rogenmoser, of Meadville, who then put out Durbin McGraw.

Owners Want Baseball to Be Civic Undertaking, But Quadruple Prices in Unfair Three-Lot Plan For Patrons Who Have Supported Club All Year

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

OWNERS want professional baseball treated as a community enterprise in which the entire city shares partnership. Fans are asked to support a losing club as well as a winning one and, generally speaking, do a fair job of it. If they didn't there would be no professional baseball today. Magnates encourage Stick-to-the-Finish Clubs, etc.

But when the customers finally get a championship outfit for which to root, world series prices are jacked up out of the reach of the great majority of loyal patrons . . . to more than four times those of the regular season.

Box seats are raised from $1.60 to $6.85, reserved from $1.35 to $5.65, general admission from 85 cents and $1.10 to $3.45, and the bleachers from 55 cents to $1.15.

To make matters worse, tickets must be purchased in three-game lots. Gus Fan can't buy one or two tickets for a single game. If he desires to see the world series, for which he has been pulling all year, and is willing to attend alone, he must dig up $20.55 if he cares to park himself in a box, $16.95 if he chooses to occupy a reserved seat, or $10.35 if he is satisfied just to get in the park.

If someone is to accompany him—and who wants to attend a ball game alone?—he must cough up $41.10, $33.90 or $20.75, depending on the location.

SPECULATORS reap a harvest because of the three-game lot system. It makes it easier for scalpers to obtain pasteboards. Unless he has a friend with an extra ticket, the man taking in a single game has no other purchasing source.

All tickets except bleachers and standing room, the latter at $3.45 a sardine, go on sale in advance, but it is graciously announced that bleachers and standing room will be thrown open on the morning of each game. Now that the big day has come, those who shouted themselves hoarse all season, but can't afford the increased tariff now, can stand in line and take their chance.

Owners claim that any other plan is impracticable. They contend there is no other way of disposing of say the 1,000 seats in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium . . . at those prices. They can do it on any given day of the season . . . at regular rates, but frankly admit outsiders have to be counted on and the bulk of the home trade slighted to make possible rich world series games.

The Yankee Stadium has yet to be completely sold out for a world series game.

THEY point to a lack of time when a race is as close as the current one in the American League, yet 14 on April to October—you can get in on an hour's notice as long as seats are available.

They point to the danger of bad weather, and the possibility of playing to a small turnout on that account. Well, who should run the risk . . . the paying guest or the players they support and who share in the first four games?

They declare the prize has to be high to keep the noble athletes hustling throughout the season. Isn't that rich? Without baseball, most players would sit and whittle.

Professional baseball's excuses for the gouging of and rank injustice to its followers are flimsy.

The world series is the official part of what is called the national game, and it is taken out of the reach of the average person who makes it possible.

Child Missing Three Nights is Returned Safe

The police theory of abduction began when hospital authorities reported the boy showed no signs of fatigue or other ill effects expected if he had wandered through the woods and fields countless since vanishing from his home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Rumbaugh, who had feared her youngest of five children would be found either slain or dead from exposure, became nearly hysterical with joy at the hospital. Reminded by relatives that today was her wedding anniversary, she said:

"I couldn't ask for a better anniversary present."

Johnson commented that "whoever brought him back knew the terrain and was careful to leave him where he would be found."

The cornfield lies on the farm of C. A. French, near Scottdale, just "three farms away" from the Rumbaugh place.

Thomas Gordon, a farmhand, said that only a short time before, he was spreading fertilizer right where Ronald was found, and there was no sign of him then. The field was also one of those examined by police earlier. Officers said the boy might have been carried or driven there down a little-used road.

Although the search had gone on for three days, it wasn't until 25 minutes before the boy was found that airplanes came into play. Charles Carroll, manager of Latoro airport, sent three of his ships to "scout" the section. Pilot David Patterson, of Greensburg, and Paul Vrhola were in the plane that spotted Ronald.

Paul Musser, a guard at Western Penitentiary, brought a bloodhound to the cornfield. Given the boy's scent, the animal sniffed the ground in a small circle, then quit—indicating to police that Donald did not walk into the field.

Willkie Talk Tonight Will Be Broadcast

Willkie touched on preparedness last night in a speech at San Diego's baseball park.

Willkie told the crowd, which more than filled the park's 10,000 seats, that "there isn't anybody in this audience who couldn't have failed just as completely as President Roosevelt in building a defense program for we have none."

The candidate's praise of the veteran Senator Johnson, whose foreign policy views have not always agreed with his, was voiced at several trainings appearances yesterday.

The Republican nominee began campaigning in California yesterday afternoon following a plane fight from Albuquerque, N. M., with a stop for a speech at Phoenix, Ariz. It was the longest day of speech-making he has put in so far—nine train platform talks besides the Phoenix and San Diego addresses.

Elaborate preparations were being made by Republican committees for tonight's rally.

SLIGHT GALE CHURNS UP ENGLISH CHANNEL

(From Page One)

Dover, England, Sept. 19.—(P)—A moderate gale blew in the English channel today, and extremely heavy seas were running, making remote the possibility of a German attempt at a sea-borne invasion.

Morning's westerly winds increased to gale proportions by noon, and there were indications of rain before nightfall.

Visibility had decreased to about five miles.

Bombardment of invasion ports by the Royal Air Force continued throughout the night.

whitecaps on the English channel and there were indications of rain before nightfall, but oners for an invader attempting to cross from the French or Belgian coasts.

Tremendous loads of explosive were dumped by the Germans last night, principally in south London, but also in central London, and in practically every other part of England as well—Lancashire, Hertfordshire, Berkshire, Essex, Sussex, Kent, the Midlands, north-east and southwest.

Several buildings were demolished and it was feared many persons were entombed last night when a German bombing plane crashed in southeastern London with a full load of bombs.

One Merseyside district reported an extremely savage bombing which lasted several hours. More than 100 bombs were dropped.

New devastation and damage in central London included the Peter Robinson department store at Oxford Circus, the London county hall, just across Westminster bridge from the Houses of Parliament, the courtyard of the world-famous British museum, the Wallace Art Collection courtyard, the Inner Temple (law courts) library and the public records office.

Oxford and Regent streets, two of the west end's busiest thoroughfares, were closed to traffic.

Forty-eight German planes were destroyed in yesterday's air battles, the Air Ministry said. Twelve British planes were lost, but nine of their pilots were reported safe.

At least three Dornier bombers were reported shot down last night and this morning.

Striking singly and in waves in a continuous hammering, Nazi raiders last night loosed tremendous loads of TNT and a new type of explosive fire bomb, causing heavy damage and mounting casualty lists.

A government communiqué tentatively estimated 90 persons were killed and 350 severely injured in the city. This compared with 306 killed and 1,937 injured the night of Sept. 7.

From nightfall Tuesday until today's dawn, Londoners had been under alarm fully two-thirds of the time, and military attaches agreed that the air bombardment now has exceeded any ever directed against a city—from Madrid to Rotterdam.

Fifteen is the minimum number for establishing a class. For that reason, under the basis of current registrations there probably will be no classes in the following subjects:

Blacksmithing, for which 3 individuals registered; radio with 12 registrants, related mathematics with 6, sheet metal with 12, wood pattern making with 6.

A meeting of the advisory board is being held this afternoon to consider the program and in the near future the matter will be presented to the local board of school directors for consideration.

JEFFERSON UNIT STARTS SEASON

The Jefferson P. T. A. met Monday evening with an unusually large attendance. The new president, H. L. Blair, with his entire staff, met with the group and outlined the business session in a very capable manner. Devotionals, planned and given by Miss Grace Jolley, were appropriate and inspirational.

After the routine business meeting, Mr. Blair outlined what the program committee has planned for the year and reminded the group of the real duties of a P. T. A. During the business meeting, much was learned of the activities of the Boy Scouts and Girls through interesting and helpful talks given by Basil White and A. N. Buck. The unit agreed to sponsor a division of Cubs along with the troop of Boy Scouts which it already has been sponsoring. After various committee reports had been made, the group was entertained as well as educated by two reels of colored films. These reels, one of a trip from Pennsylvania to Florida, the other of historic Virginia, were very efficiently handled and explained by Mr. Blair.

Another interesting program is promised for the October meeting and all will want to be in attendance.

MCCLINTOCK UNIT HAVING SOCIAL

The McClintock P. T. A. members are sponsoring an ice cream social at the school tomorrow afternoon and invite the public's patronage. Serving hours are from four until nine o'clock.
